FROM THE CORRESPONDENT'S DESK-

Greetings to all !

" Karye Kaushalyam Asthu"

Let there be excellence in work !

Excellence is not about never making mistakes or always getting top marks- it is about being curious, resilient & willing to grow. It's the courage to ask questions when not understood, to embrace feedback and to explore new ideas. It is a personal journey of discovery where effort is as satisfying as achieving a perfect result.

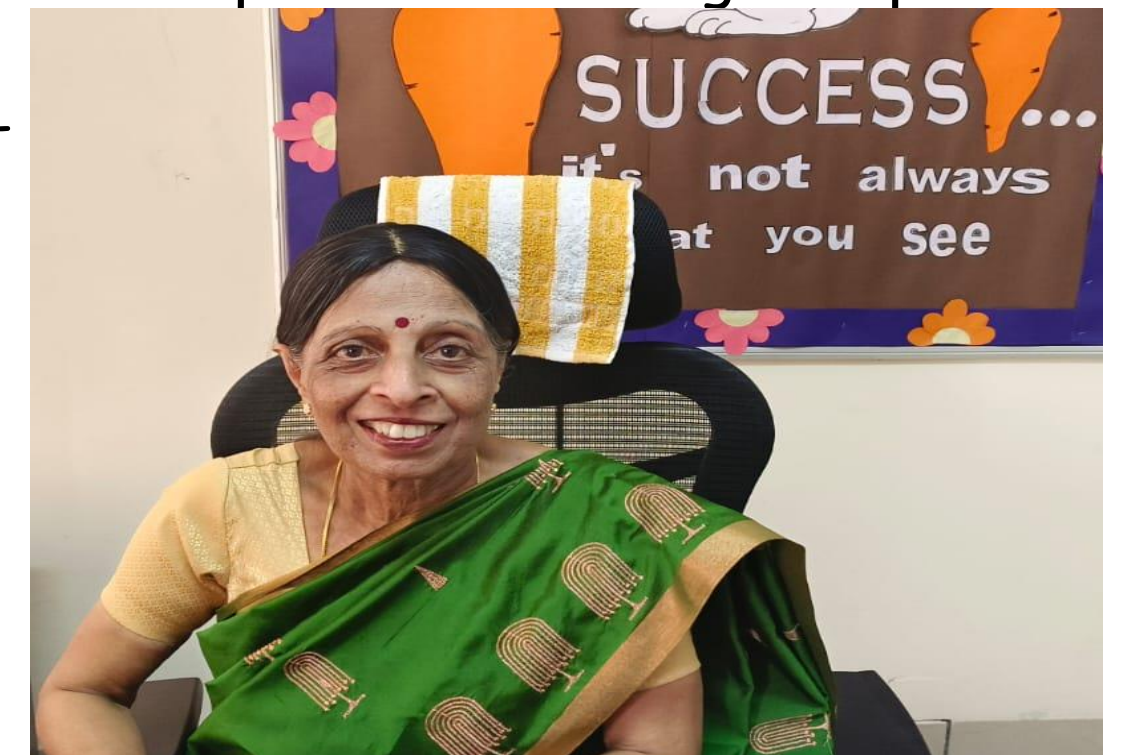

" If you cannot do great things, do small things in a great way " so said Napoleon Hill

There are umpteen stories of young achievers who have faced hurdles and despite innumerable Obstacles, have succeeded in their mission .I am sure all of us feel very proud of the achievements of the young cricket player Akashdeep Singh who has etched a name for himself in Cricket . But most of us may not be aware of his determination ,resilience and grit . He had to face innumerable challenges and great hardship. Yet he never gave up his dreams and worked relentlessly to attain his goals. He is indeed a role model for all of us. Is there a clear-cut path to success? You can try and follow these tips-

- 1.Set clear smart goals - specific,measurable ,achievable and time-bound
2. Maintain records- a diary,a journal
3. Build strong study habits
- 4 Organize time and space
- 5 Learn actively and reflect often
6. Take care of your well-being
7. Be ethical and build a strong character

My best wishes to each one of you for trying to set up a new bench mark for yourself and for success in each endeavour.

Mrs.Jayashree Iyer,Correspondent,T.I.M.E.SCHOOL,BANDLAGUDA.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK-

Dear Parents and Children,

Lately, there has been a growing discussion—and at times, concern—about the role of multilingual education in our schools. As an educationist, I believe it's the right moment for us to pause, reflect, and take a deeper look into our roots to understand the true power of language. India has always been a land of abundance—not just in terms of resources, but in knowledge, culture, and wisdom. From the Vedas to the epics like the Ramayana and Mahabharata, from ancient scientific discoveries to rich folk traditions—our ancestors engaged in profound intellectual pursuits, all in their own languages. Our great-grandparents didn't need foreign tongues to produce world-class thinking. They thought, dreamed, and created in the comfort of their mother tongues. Their ideas flowed freely, unburdened by translation, because their language was rooted in their hearts. But, somewhere along the way—especially during colonial rule—we became disconnected. English became dominant, and our original languages took a back seat. With that, much of our original, unfiltered thinking also began to fade. Today, while English remains important for global communication and opportunities—and rightly so—we must not let go of our own linguistic heritage. I urge you, dear parents, to encourage your children to learn and love their mother tongue—be it Tamil, Telugu, Bengali, Marathi, Punjabi, or any other. This isn't just about language. It's about preserving our family identities, our traditions, our culture, and our connection to generations past. When children think in their mother tongue, they feel more connected. Their thoughts flow with clarity and originality. Creativity thrives when language is not a barrier but a bridge to imagination. Let English continue to be the medium of instruction in schools, opening doors to the world. But at home, let your children rediscover the magic of your mother tongue. Let them hear the lullabies, the stories, the proverbs—and in doing so, let them reclaim a piece of who they truly are. May our languages flourish once more. May they give rise to creative, confident, brilliant minds who carry forward the glory of our motherland. Jai Hind!

Warm regards,

An Educationist Who Believes in the Power of Language

Head Boy

Varshith Naik

Being the Head Boy of TIME School isn't just about attending classes or wearing a badge. It's about what we stand for every day. The way we carry ourselves, treat others, and push through challenges says everything about who we are as students of this school. As Head Boy, I aim to inspire my peers to excel not just in academics, but also in sports and cultural activities.

Tanvi Alenoor

Hey everyone! Being the Head Girl isn't just about a position in the cabinet—it's about you and me working together to make our school the best it can be. I'm truly honoured to represent you all and want to be someone you can talk to, laugh with, and count on. My ambition is to lead with kindness, integrity, and energy, creating a space where every voice is heard and every idea matters

Head Girl

Sports Captain and Vice Captain

Sports Captain

Manha Riyaz

Being elected as the Sports Captain of the school cabinet, I feel truly grateful to my teachers and classmates for believing in my abilities and leadership. This position is a responsibility that I will carry out with dedication and enthusiasm.

Aashritha Naik

As Sports Vice-Captain, I am truly honored to be a part of our school's athletic journey this year. My aim is to foster a vibrant sports culture where every student feels inspired to participate and grow. I believe in leading by example—through dedication, consistency, and a passion for sports.

Vice Captain

Rabindranath Tagore House

House Captain

Phiroza Riddhi Raidu

Being the Captain of Rabindranath Tagore House is not just an honour—it's a promise I carry with heart, pride, and purpose. Tagore once said, "Let your life lightly dance on the edges of Time like dew on the tip of a leaf."

Parinitha Kalmkar

As Rabindranath Tagore House Vice Captain, I wish to dive into a fresh and exciting chapter of our House's journey. Last year was a time of growth and reflection for our House, and this year, we will continue to build on the strong foundation we've established.

Vice Captain

C.V Raman House

House Captain

Nattansh Sarkar

It's an honour to serve as the Captain of C.V. Raman House. Our house, named after the great scientist, stands for curiosity, hard work, and excellence. Let's carry that spirit in everything we do—be it studies, sports, or cultural activities.

Spandana Krishna

As the newly appointed House Vice Captain for C.V. Raman House, my core aim is to embark on a journey of growth and achievement, meticulously planning to take our house forward in every possible aspect. This isn't just about winning, it's about cultivating a spirit of relentless determination.

Vice Captain

Sarojini Naidu House

House Captain

Rama Krishna

As the newly appointed House Captain for Sarojini Naidu House, I aspire to set new benchmarks in terms of achievements and spirit and leading my housemates to glorious accolades.

Keerthika

As the Vice Captain of Sarojini Naidu House, I'm truly honoured to get this opportunity which means a great deal to me, and I'm excited to begin this journey. My goal is to work with each of my housemates to support, encourage, and bring out the best in them.

Vice Captain

Swami Vivekananda House

Fazileth Imran

As Swami Vivekananda House Captain, I'm excited to lead and grow with my team. I'll work to build unity, encourage participation, and make sure everyone feels included. My focus will be on teamwork, discipline, and giving our best in everything we do.

House Captain

Ira Singh

I feel truly proud and happy to have been given this new position. I will do my best to support every member, help bring out the best in everyone, and work hard to lead our house towards success. I'll make every effort to ensure that each member gets a fair chance to participate and shine, because I believe that teamwork and equal opportunity are the keys to true victory.

Vice Captain

SECRETARIES

Discipline
Secretaries

Likhith Kumar Barla

As the Discipline Secretary, I, firmly believe that true discipline is not about restriction, but about creating an environment that nurtures excellence, encourages accountability, and empowers every student to rise as a leader. I strive to make our school a place where character is built and values are lived every day.

Nikhil Amanchi

It is a true honour to serve as the Discipline Secretary for this academic year. Discipline is not just about following rules — it's about creating a respectful, focused, and positive environment where everyone can grow and succeed. As a cabinet member, the goal is to lead by example and encourage peers to uphold the values that make our school a place of Excellence

Namana Tripta Phani Sai Vennela

As the Sports Secretary, I promise to promote teamwork, fitness and fair play throughout the year. Together, we'll bring more trophies home and make our school proud. Let's make this the most active and exciting sports year yet.

Sports
Secretary

Maths
Secretary

Lalith Lochan Reddy

I am proud to be the newly elected Maths Secretary of T.I.M.E. School. I feel truly honoured and excited to take up this role and help make maths more exciting and engaging for everyone. I feel inspired to turn challenges into opportunities and help everyone see how powerful and beautiful maths can be.

Namit Sai

Being inducted as the Science Secretary is a responsibility I take with pride. At TIME School, science is more than just a subject — it's a mindset. It teaches us to question, explore, and solve problems with creativity and purpose. This year, I want the Science Club to be a space where curiosity meets action — through hands-on projects, innovation challenges and meaningful discussions.

Science

Literary Secretary

Akshadha Pradhan

As the newly elected Literary Secretary, I hope to encourage more students to participate in literary activities and enjoy expressing themselves through writing and speaking. I would like to help make events like debates, recitations and poetry competitions more engaging and enjoyable. I also aim to create a space where everyone feels confident to share their ideas.

Cultural
